GOVERNOR

March 30, 2015

Greetings,

I would like to recognize all citizens who serve in their communities as volunteers and contribute to the strength and vitality of Maine's towns and cities.

Volunteers contribute greatly by inspiring and mobilizing people to make positive changes. The giving of oneself in service to another empowers both the giver and the recipient. People who are going through a tough time in their life can be greatly assisted by the willingness and service provided by volunteers. The estimated economic contribution of volunteer hours in Maine is over $900 million annually.

I appreciate the volunteers of Maine for their generous and thoughtful work that they provide to the people of Maine and the Nation.

Sincerely,

Paul R. LePage
Governor
